Madison Square Garden Company

About the

THE
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN
COMPANY

The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG) is a fully integrated sports, entertainment and media business comprised of dynamic and powerful assets and brands. MSG's business grew from the legendary venue widely known as "The World's Most Famous Arena." Drawing on its celebrated history, the Company builds iconic brands that set the standard for excellence and innovation while forging deep connections with diverse and passionate audiences. With an unparalleled portfolio of strategically aligned venues, content and distribution channels, the Company's three business segments — MSG Sports, MSG Media and MSG Entertainment — work together to deliver exceptional experiences that endure for generations.

MSG Sports owns and operates the New York Knicks (NBA), the New York Rangers (NHL), the New York Liberty (WNBA), the Westchester Knicks (NBA D-League) and the Hartford Wolf Pack (AHL). MSG Sports also promotes, produces, and/or partners on a broad array of world-class live sporting events, including world championship boxing, college basketball (BIG EAST Championship, St. John's Red Storm, Jimmy V Classic and others), tennis (BNP Paribas Showdown), WWE, Professional Bull Riders, Harlem Globetrotters, college hockey (Red Hot Hockey, The Frozen Apple) and college wrestling.

MSG Entertainment (MSGE) is one of the country's leaders in live entertainment and is recognized for its signature combination of event production, entertainment marketing and iconic venues. MSGE creates, produces and/or presents live productions, including the number one live holiday family show in America, the Radio City Christmas Spectacular, featuring the legendary Rockettes. In spring 2015, MSGE will showcase the Rockettes in a brand new theatrical production — called New York Spring Spectacular — that embodies the energy and excitement of New York City and features dynamic, new choreography by the world renowned dance troupe. In addition, MSGE presents or hosts live entertainment events, including concerts, family shows and special events, in its diverse collection of venues, which include the Madison Square Garden Arena, The Theater at Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall, the Beacon Theatre, the Forum in Inglewood, CA, The Chicago Theatre and the Wang Theatre in Boston.

MSG Media is a leader in production and content development for multiple distribution platforms, including content originating from the Company's venues, and is comprised of regional sports networks, MSG Network and MSG+, collectively referred to as "MSG Networks." MSG Networks are home to seven professional sports teams: the Knicks, Rangers, Liberty, New York Islanders, New Jersey Devils, Buffalo Sabres and New York Red Bulls, as well as award-winning original programming. The two networks are among the nation's largest regional cable channels and together telecast more than 3,100 hours of live original programming each year, including approximately 700 live sporting events.

The Company also has more than 20 interactive websites, social networking sites and mobile applications that support these three business segments. More information on the Company is available at www.themadisonsquaregardencompany.com.

James L. Dolan

EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN, THE MADISON SQUARE GARDEN COMPANY

As executive chairman of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG), James L. Dolan oversees the company's many entities, including its world-famous arena complex, professional sports teams, sports and entertainment networks, and historic showplaces. Mr. Dolan also serves as chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, one of the nation's leading media and telecommunications companies.

In his role at The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan is responsible for the Company's overall growth strategy and manages all of its operations. He also serves as governor to the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Knicks and Rangers.

To ensure the standing of the Company's premier venues, Mr. Dolan has taken on a number of restoration projects throughout his tenure. In January 2014, the legendary Forum arena in Inglewood, California re-opened after undergoing a reinvention that created the largest indoor performance venue in the country focused on music and entertainment. This followed the October 2013 completion of a three-year Transformation of the Madison Square Garden Arena designed to significantly enhance the experience of customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and partners. Mr. Dolan was also the catalyst for a restoration of the Company's Beacon Theatre, which was renewed to its former grandeur in early 2009. Among his most significant accomplishments as MSG chairman, Mr. Dolan also spearheaded a multimillion-dollar restoration of Radio City Music Hall in 1999, returning the national landmark and MSG showpiece to its original splendor.

Over the past few years, Mr. Dolan has taken additional steps to expand MSG's entertainment properties. They include the addition of The Chicago Theatre, which was built in 1921 as one of the country's most opulent motion picture houses, and the Forum, which has been a celebrated arena in the Greater Los Angeles area since its opening in 1967.

Mr. Dolan has led MSG's response to local and national tragedies. He played a principal role in organizing several extraordinary benefit concerts, including "12-12-12," which raised more than $50 million for the victims of Hurricane Sandy; "The Concert For New York City," which generated more than $35 million in aid for 9/11 victims and heroes; and "From The Big Apple to The Big Easy," which raised nearly $9 million for Hurricane Katrina relief. Mr. Dolan also supports The Madison Square Garden Company's ongoing commitment to the community, particularly through the Garden of Dreams Foundation, the non-profit charity that works closely with all areas at the company to help children throughout the New York metropolitan area.

In addition to his leadership role at The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan is chief executive officer of Cablevision Systems Corporation, which served as MSG's parent company until February 2010, when the sports, media and entertainment business became a standalone, public company. Mr. Dolan oversees Cablevision's comprehensive portfolio of advanced Optimum-branded telecommunications products, including its digital cable television, digital voice and high-speed Internet services, and Optimum WiFi, the nation's most robust wireless Internet network.

Also under his purview, and serving the New York tri-state area, are Cablevision's local media and programming properties, which include News 12 Networks and Newsday Media Group, featuring Long Island's leading daily newspaper, Newsday.

Prior to assuming his present posts at Cablevision and The Madison Square Garden Company, Mr. Dolan was chief executive officer of Rainbow Media Holdings, the former Cablevision programming subsidiary that became a separate, public company named AMC Networks Inc. in June 2011. Mr. Dolan began his career with Cablevision in the 1970s and held a variety of executive positions before overseeing Rainbow Media.

Mr. Dolan serves on the board of directors for The Madison Square Garden Company and AMC Networks, and is a member of Cablevision's board of directors and its executive committee. He is also on the board of The Lustgarten Foundation, an organization he helped found in 1998 which today is the nation's largest private supporter of pancreatic cancer research. In addition, he sits on the boards of Tribeca Enterprises, C-SPAN and the Breathe Easy Play Hard Foundation, and is a member of the New York University Steinhardt Dean's Council.

Tad Smith

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Tad Smith serves as president and chief executive officer of The Madison Square Garden Company (MSG), overseeing all aspects of the company, including the overall strategy and day-to-day operations of MSG Sports, MSG Media and MSG Entertainment, as well as its administrative areas, including Finance, Legal, Human Resources, Communications and Business Operations. He also serves as alternate governor to the National Hockey League on behalf of the New York Rangers.

The Madison Square Garden Company's signature assets include an unparalleled portfolio of iconic venues: New York's Madison Square Garden, Radio City Music Hall and Beacon Theatre; the Forum in Inglewood, CA; The Chicago Theatre; and the Wang Theatre in Boston. An accomplished veteran of both print and electronic operations, he most recently served as chief executive officer of the company's U.S. business-to-business division, Reed Business Information (RBI), where he had leadership and operational oversight for a number of well-known brands, including Variety, Daily Variety, Publishers Weekly, Multichannel News and Broadcasting & Cable. He also was responsible for developing and running RBI's digital media businesses, including its extensive e-commerce operations.

Mr. Smith previously served as senior vice president of e-commerce for Starwood Resorts and Hotels Worldwide, tasked with developing and implementing a comprehensive global Internet strategy for the company. Prior to then, he was a vice president with BMG Entertainment, a subsidiary of global publisher Bertelsmann AG, where he served as head of the company's merchandising unit, and managed strategy, acquisition and restructuring for its North American business units, including Arista Records, RCA Records, BMG Direct Record Clubs and BMG Music Publishing. Mr. Smith began his business career as a management consultant for McKinsey & Company, Inc., a leading global management consulting firm, where he advised media, energy, and healthcare clients on all aspects of strategy and performance improvement.

Mr. Smith has been teaching at the Stern School of Business at New York University since 1999, where he is currently an Adjunct Professor in the Finance Department. His course, Strategy and Finance for Technology, Media, and Entertainment Companies, has been a favorite among Mr. Smith's 800+ former students.

He received a Master of Business Administration from Harvard Business School, where he was a George F. Baker Scholar and a Horace W. Goldsmith Fellow. Mr. Smith holds a Bachelor of Arts from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, where he received the R.W. Van de Velde Prize. In 2007 and 2008, Mr. Smith also served on the Dean's Leadership Council of the Woodrow Wilson School.

Mr. Smith serves on the board of directors for Tribeca Enterprises and SiTV Media, Inc. He is also a past member of the board and the executive committee of the Long Island Association, and the boards of the Interactive Advertising Bureau, the Online Publishers Association, and American Business Media. He won Folio's Executive of the Year in 2008, min's Top Executive of the Year in 2007, and Media Business' Top Innovator in 2007, and was inducted into the Digital Media Hall of Fame in 2006.

Phil Jackson

PRESIDENT

The author of a championship legacy unmatched in the annals of pro basketball, Hall of Famer Phil Jackson was entrusted with the future of one of the game's cornerstone franchises - and his original NBA home - when he was named president of the New York Knickerbockers on Mar. 18, 2014.

For Jackson, the owner of a staggering 13 NBA Championship rings - two as a player with the Knicks, and a record-shattering 11 as head coach of the Bulls and Lakers - it marks the latest challenge in a success-laden career, his first front office leadership position, and a return to the place where he first started writing NBA history nearly five decades ago.

"When I was asked if I would be part of it and to what degree I should feel comfortable doing it," reflected Jackson, 69, "I felt that this was the right position if I was going to have an influential part in developing the character and the style of play that the New York Knicks were going to try to bring forth on the court. So, from that standpoint, being in this position, it's one where you can develop some of the staff and some of the people that are going to teach the game, and also the type of players you're going to put out on the floor, to demonstrate this type of game we want to play."

Jackson, a member of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2007, is in charge of all basketball decisions for the Knicks. He joined the Knicks following a 20-year head coaching career over which he amassed a 1,155-485 (.704) career regular season mark. His .704 career winning percentage is the highest for any head coach in League history (minimum 400 games), while his 1,155 regular season wins rank fifth on the all-time NBA list.

En route to winning an all-time NBA record 11 championships as a head coach (breaking Red Auerbach's old mark of nine), Jackson compiled a career Playoff mark of 229-104 (.688). He is the all-time NBA Playoff leader in wins (229), overall games coached (333) and winning percentage (.688, minimum 25 games).

Jackson served as head coach of the Chicago Bulls for nine seasons (1989-90 through 1997-98), leading the Bulls to six NBA titles - in 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 1998 - as well as to an all-time NBA record 72 wins in 1995-96. He then spent 11 seasons with the Los Angeles Lakers (1999-2000 through 2003-04, 2005-06 through 2010-11) and piloted the Lakers to the NBA summit five times - in 2000, 2001, 2002, 2009 and 2010. Over a post-season span from 1996-2003, Jackson led his teams to a record 25 consecutive series victories. He is also the only coach in NBA history to win as many as three consecutive titles on three separate occasions.

As part of the NBA's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97, Phil was named one of the 10 Greatest Coaches in NBA History. He earned NBA Coach of the Year honors in 1995-96 in the wake of Chicago's record-breaking 72-10 season.

Phil logged a total of 25 years as an NBA coach, with five additional seasons as an assistant coach with the New Jersey Nets (1978-79 through 1980-81) and Bulls (1987-88 through 1988-89). He also served for five seasons as head coach of the CBA's Albany Patroons, winning the League title in 1984.

Decades before he recorded his first coaching win, Jackson's NBA journey began with the Knicks, which made his return to the Big Apple all the more appropriate and symbolic.

"There's a real decided feel about coming back to New York and the Knicks," he says. "It's the team I first started playing pro basketball with and had a successful career with a team that was highly successful under a coach who was a fan favorite and a team that was favored in the New York area."

Phil had a 13-year NBA playing career over which he averaged 6.7 points and 4.3 rebounds over 807 games. He played 11 seasons with the Knicks (1967-68 through 1977-78) and two with the Nets (1978-79 through 1979-80), during which he also served as an assistant coach.

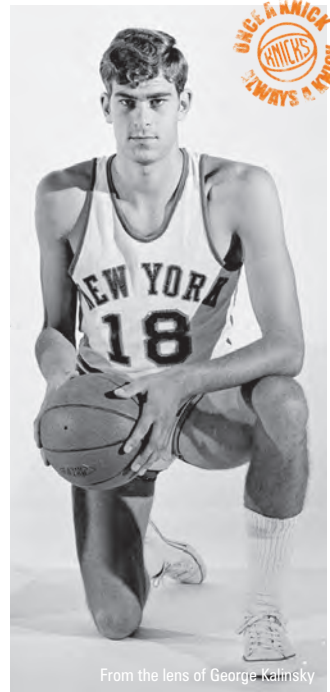

Originally drafted by the Knicks in the second round (17th overall) of the 1967 NBA Draft, Jackson earned NBA All-Rookie Team honors in 1967-68 for a New York squad that featured two other rookies he would eventually join in Springfield - Walt Frazier and Bill Bradley. A coaching protégée of the late Red Holzman, Phil was sidelined for the entire 1969-70 championship season due to a back injury, but would play a key role on the 1972-73 championship squad with 8.1 ppg. The following season, 1973-74, he averaged a career-high 11.1 points while playing in all 82 games.

Nicknamed "Action Jackson" (after the popular children's toy) by future MSG announcer Kenny Albert and master of the defensive "Windmill Effect" maneuver, Phil scored 4,989 points (6.8 ppg) in 732 career games as a Knick. He ranks fifth on the all-time Knicks career list in games played (trailing only Patrick Ewing, Frazier, Bradley and Carl Braun) and 29th in total points.

Jackson was a two-time All-American at the University of North Dakota under Head Coach Bill Fitch. Some four decades later, in 2008, he was presented with an honorary Doctorate of Letters by his alma mater.

Born on Sep. 17, 1945 in Deer Lodge, MT, Phil is the author of seven books, including his latest, Eleven Rings: The Soul of Success (Penguin, 2013). His first book, Take it All! (Macmillan, 1970), was a photographic look at the Knicks' 1970 title drive co-authored with Garden photographer George Kalinsky.

Jackson is the father of five grown children.

Steve Mills

GENERAL MANAGER

Steve Mills was named general manager of the Knickerbockers on Mar. 18, 2014. He had returned to The Madison Square Garden Company on Sep. 26, 2013.

"It was a welcoming and unique experience," says Mills of his return to The Garden, "when you spend 10 years at a place and you leave, and then you come back and all these people are saying 'Welcome back, welcome home.' It's one of those things that's rare in today's work environment where you have that kind of an opportunity, and I'm really grateful and thankful for it."

A 30-plus-year veteran of the sports world, Mills' career has included 16 years with the National Basketball Association, where his talents led to a notable ascent from account executive to senior vice president of basketball and player development. This was followed by 10 years at The Madison Square Garden Company, where Mills had a wide range of responsibilities that included overseeing business and basketball operations for the Knicks and Liberty, along with business operations for the Rangers and for all other sports-related activities at The Garden.

Now, in his second tenure at The Garden, he is poised to join team president Phil Jackson as a top-level management team charged with the responsibility of restoring the Knicks to elite status.

"We're just excited to have a guy like Phil be part of the organization," says Mills. "He and I, working together, have skills that complement each other and I think we can do great things together."

"Phil brings so much in terms of basketball knowledge and success, and he clearly understands what it takes to build a team that works; a team where the players, the staff and the environment all complement each other to create a winning atmosphere. You can just tell by the way he carries himself, the way he talks about players and the staff, the way he interacts with people, that it's a great environment that's very conducive to winning."

Mills' decade-long career at The Madison Square Garden Company included his role as president of MSG Sports, during which he oversaw all business operations, including marketing and community relations, for the company's three professional sports teams and Sports Properties, which included college basketball, boxing, and track and field. Steve originally joined the Knicks as executive vice president of franchise operations in September 1999 and became president of sports teams operations for Madison Square Garden in 2001.

Prior to his move to The Garden, Mills played an integral role in the development of the National Basketball Association, where he held several positions with increasing responsibility, including his last role as senior vice president, basketball and player development. His responsibilities included managing the league's relationships with all domestic and international basketball organizations, including the NCAA and USA Basketball, as well as overseeing the NBA's developmental programs and player initiatives during one of the most critical periods in league history. Mills also played a key role in the creation of the Women's National Basketball Association and served on the team responsible for the negotiation of the NBA's Collective Bargaining Agreement. Mills started his career with the NBA in 1983 as an account executive in the corporate sponsorship department of NBA Properties.

Before returning to MSG, Mills most recently served as partner and CEO of Athletex & Entertainers Wealth Management Group, LLC, a company he created in 2010 that links sports and entertainment stars with investment and management leaders to create new business opportunities.

An accomplished collegiate basketball player, Mills started three seasons at guard for Hall of Fame Coach Pete Carril at Princeton University, where he helped lead the Tigers to two Ivy League first place finishes, including the league title and an NCAA berth in 1981. He also played professionally for one season in South America in 1981.

Mills earned a degree in sociology from Princeton in 1981, and has served on the Board of Trustees for the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and the Board of Directors for USA Basketball. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Princeton Varsity Club and on the Advisory Board for Manhattan's Hospital for Special Surgery. Steve and his wife Beverly have two daughters.

Allan Houston

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Firmly established in his post-playing career, Allan Houston is currently in his seventh season as a member of the Knicks' front office and his fifth year as assistant general manager, following two years as assistant to the president, basketball operations. He oversees all operations of New York's new D-League affiliate, the Westchester Knicks, and assists team president Phil Jackson and general manager Steve Mills.

"It's been a blessing to be able to grow in the organization and learn from different people, different cultures, different leadership styles," says Houston, 43, who officially joined the Knicks front office on Nov. 7, 2008. "It's gratifying for me to be in a position where Phil, Steve, Derek, all the coaches and everyone in the organization understands the importance of increasing a person's professional and personal value."

The debut season of the Knicks' owned-and-operated affiliate in Westchester will present Allan with a new and exciting challenge this year.

"I think it's great, first of all, that we kept the name 'Knicks'," he says. "I think the fan base, the energy, the passion for the Knicks is so strong that the potential impact is going to be huge for fans who can still feel connected to the parent Knicks but can also have a fun, family-friendly, affordable experience not even an hour away. I'm looking forward to having the community really be involved. I'm into family and this is going to be a great venue for a lot of families. I also think that people will be surprised how good the quality of basketball is going to be."

A two-time NBA All-Star (in 2000 and 2001), Houston's front office career comes on the heels of a stellar 12-year playing tenure over which he averaged 17.3 points, including two 20+ scoring seasons with the Knicks.

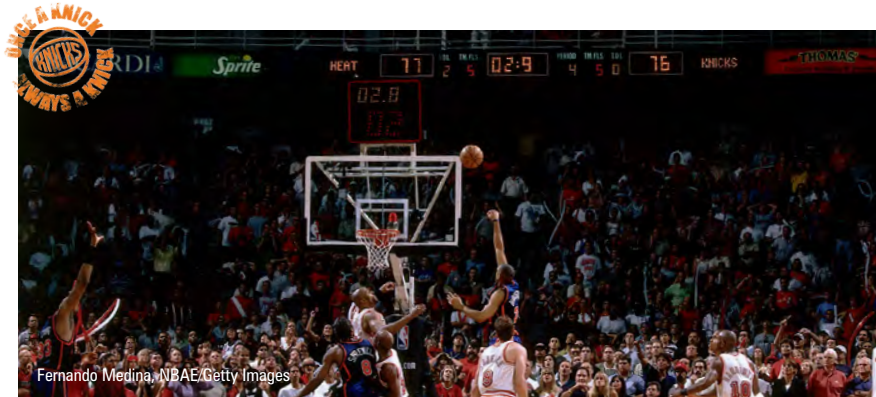

After three years in Detroit, Allan spent nine standout seasons (1996-97 through 2004-05) with the Knicks. He is fourth on the all-time Knicks career scoring list with 11,165 points, trailing only Hall of Famers Patrick Ewing (23,665), Walt Frazier (14,617) and Willis Reed (12,183). Houston is also second among all-time Knicks in three-point field goals (921, to John Starks' 982), third in free throw percentage (.872), and sixth in minutes (21,724).

A key member of the Knicks' 1999 Eastern Conference Championship team, Allan authored perhaps the single most-famous shot in franchise history, his unforgettable running one-hander with :00.8 left to give New York a series-clinching 78-77 win in Game Five of the first Playoff round at Miami (May 16, 1999). Houston scored a career-high 53 points at Los Angeles against the Lakers on Feb. 16, 2003.

Allan announced his retirement on Oct. 17, 2005, although he attempted comebacks (both injury-shortened) during training camp in 2007 and 2008. In 2001, he was honored as a Knicks Legend for the period from 2000-2010, and saw his No. 20 retired by the University of Tennessee. Allan averaged 8.0 ppg for the gold medal-winning U.S. squad at the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney.

Houston's longstanding community efforts earned him recognition for six straight years (2000 through 2005) as one of The Sporting News' "Good Guys in Sports". He currently oversees the Allan Houston Legacy Foundation, which was founded in 2001 and has served thousands of families nationwide through original programs in fatherhood and entrepreneurship. The programs include the annual "Father Knows Best" Basketball Retreat, a family engagement initiative between children and their father figures designed to strengthen their relationships, and the Allan Houston Business Education and Development Program, which has encouraged and empowered young entrepreneurs for the last seven years. Allan was honored by the New York Press Photographers Association with its 1999 "Good Guy" award.

Born on Apr. 20, 1971 in Louisville, Allan and his wife Tamara are proud parents of seven children: daughter Remie (15; born on Jun. 12, 1999, one day after Allan's 32-point heroics in NY's Eastern Conference-clinching Game Six win over Indiana), sons Allan III (13) and Asher (2), and daughters Rowan (10), Jade (7), Jodi Jean (6) and Truth Grace (4). A graduate of the University of Tennessee (BA, African-American Studies), Allan played collegiately for his father Wade, then the Vols' head coach. Allan's father and mother, Wade and Alice, are partners in Louisville-based HJI Inc., a family-based transportation and logistics company.

Derek Fisher

HEAD COACH

Following a playing career studded with five World Championships and defined by a legacy as one of the game's great leaders, Derek Fisher embarks on the next chapter of his storied basketball life as head coach of the New York Knickerbockers.

Just 10 days after his final game as an active player, Fisher was named the 26th head coach in Knicks franchise history on Jun. 10, 2014.

"Thankful. It's a big-time, humbling process," says Fisher, 40. "I'm excited - really excited - for what I consider to be a fantastic opportunity to be a part of this Knicks organization. I'm excited about the possibilities of what we can accomplish as a group."

Fisher's first NBA coaching assignment reunites him with Knicks team president Phil Jackson, who was Derek's coach for the bulk of his playing career and under whose guidance the Lakers (and Fisher) won five NBA titles during the first decade of the 2000s. Throughout that period, Fisher's unmatched leadership qualities - both on the court and in the locker room - were apparent on a nightly basis.

"The whole process of Derek growing into the role of being a great leader and having seen how he developed as an individual is really inspirational for me," says Jackson of Fisher's playing days. "His play was sacrificial play. As a lead guard, he organized what went on down on the floor. He gave up himself to make the team better. But then when we always needed something special in a game in which there might have been a hesitation, he was the guy who would step into the vacuum. So I liked that about him.

"He was also a very inspirational player because he seemed to have a knack for stepping into the mood and creating the next idea, [saying] 'We're not focused, guys. We're not running our offense. Something's going on here that we haven't been able to define. Let's get ourselves together.' Those little things that he put into the huddle or into the locker room were always what a coach loved to hear. You have to have players like that, who bring it together. So I saw that part, very much so."

Fisher - who played his final NBA game on May 31, 2014 for Oklahoma City in Game Six of the Western Conference Finals - is confident that his rapid transition from player to coach will be a seamless one, even amid the harsh spotlight of the world's greatest basketball stage.

"It'll naturally find its place. I think the key is to focus on just building a natural, organic relationship with the players," says Derek. "The divide between coach and player and that whole relationship, I believe, will take its own form. You won't be in the locker room with the players like you were as a player, you won't be sitting in the same seats on the airplane or the bus...all those places where players connect in a much different way than coaches and players do. I'm not as concerned about that. I'm more focused on just building a true relationship with my players to the maximum level that a coach and a player can have a relationship, because it will be different."

Fisher joined the Knicks following a stellar, 18-year playing career over which he averaged 8.3 points per game (10,713 career points) over 1,287 games for five teams. Originally drafted by the Lakers out of Arkansas-Little Rock in the first round (24th overall) of the 1996 NBA Draft, he spent 13 seasons in Los Angeles and was a key member of five Phil Jackson-coached NBA Championship teams (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010).

In garnering his five championship rings, Fisher played in an NBA-record 259 career Playoff games, while his 285 post-season three-point field goals rank fifth on the all-time NBA Playoff list.

Derek's reputation as a clutch post-season performer was crystallized when he authored one of the most memorable shots in recent NBA history; his game-winning, buzzer-beating jumper (off Gary Payton's inbound with :00.4 seconds left) on May 13, 2004, giving the Lakers a stunning 74-73 win at San Antonio in Game Five of the Western Conference Semifinals.

HEAD COACH

Fisher's 1,287 regular season games played rank 16th on the all-time NBA list. Derek amassed a streak of 537 consecutive games played (ending in 2012), played in 82 games in nine different seasons and appeared in 81 contests during his final season (2013-14 with Oklahoma City). His 1,248 three-point field goals rank 38th on the all-time NBA career list.

Born on Aug. 9, 1974 in Little Rock, AR, Fisher served as president of the National Basketball Players Association from 2006-13 and played a pivotal role in ending the 2011 NBA lockout. He won the NBA Community Assist Award for April 2005 after making a $700,000 donation to his alma mater for an auxiliary gym (Fisher Gym) at Arkansas-Little Rock's Stephens Center and to establish Fisher Fellows, a mentoring program for neighborhood middle school students. Derek's brother Duane Washington played in the NBA in 1987-88 (New Jersey) and 1992-92 (Clippers).

Derek and his wife are proud parents of four children and are tireless workers in the fight against retinoblastoma.

Kurt Rambis

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Kurt Rambis is back for his second tour of duty with the Knicks. If you blinked, you may have missed the first one.

More than three decades - and eight championship rings - later, he's returned to the place where his NBA journey began. This time, his stay will undoubtedly be a great deal longer and much more impactful.

In the latest entry to one of the game's most impressive resumes, Rambis joined the Knickerbockers when he was named associate head coach - the first in team history - on Jul. 7, 2014.

"It's a tremendous opportunity to be associated with Phil and have the opportunity to help Derek in his first coaching venture," says Rambis, who is currently in his 17th season as an NBA coach. "Working in Madison Square Garden with one of the storied franchises in NBA history, to me it's like...if you put yourself in that kind of environment, how could you not want to jump at that opportunity?"

A fixture with the Los Angeles Lakers during both the Showtime era of the 1980s and the championship years of the early 2000s, Rambis owns a total of eight NBA Championship rings, all as a player, four as a coach/manager. He joined the Knicks after spending the 2013-14 season as a Lakers assistant coach under Mike D'Antoni.

Kurt logged a total of 14 seasons as a Lakers assistant coach: from 1994-95 through 1998-99, from 2001-02 through 2008-09, and again in 2013-14. He also served as Lakers head coach for the second half of the 1998-99 season (winning his first nine games and leading the Forum Blue and Gold to a 24-13 mark and a trip to the Western Conference Semis), as advisor to the president in 1999-2000 and as assistant general manager in 2000-01. During his coaching/executive career with the Lakers, the team won four championships under head coach Phil Jackson (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009), with current Knicks headmaster Derek Fisher playing a vital role on each squad.

"It'll be a blessing to have the opportunity to work with Kurt in this fashion now," says Fisher. "We've worked with each other in different capacities for many years and have always had a very open and trusting relationship where we can talk to each other and express our true feelings about things. To have this opportunity to have someone with Kurt's experience, wisdom and knowledge from his success as a player and as a coach, to be there by my side working as hard as I am to help us be successful, that's going to help a lot."

In addition to his long-standing Laker tenure, Rambis also served for two seasons (2009-10 through 2010-11) as head coach of the Minnesota Timberwolves. He owns an overall NBA head coaching mark of 56-145 (.279).

A player who epitomized the blue collar work ethic, Rambis had a 14-year NBA career (1981-82 through 1994-95) over which he averaged 5.2 points and 5.6 rebounds over 880 career games. He spent the bulk of his playing career with the Lakers, emerging as a Forum fan favorite and a key member of four NBA Championship teams (1982, 1985, 1987, 1988). He ranks third on the all-time NBA Playoff list with a .574 career post-season field goal percentage (minimum 150 FGM), and fifth on the all-time Lakers list in career FG pct. (.550). Kurt's final season as a player was 1994-95, when he began the year as a special assistant coach and wound up appearing in 26 games in an emergency role as the Lakers were hit with the wave of injuries.

During his NBA career, Rambis has played or coached under some of the greatest figures in the game's history, including Jackson, Pat Riley, Del Harris, Dick Harter, Cotton Fitzsimmons, Paul Westphal and - in his brief time in New York - Red Holzman.

"I've been very fortunate with all the coaches I've worked under," says Kurt, 56. "Though their styles may be a little different, the essence of their message was always the same: it was about working hard, about teamwork, about unselfish play, contributing at the defensive end, covering each other's backs at that end of the floor. So they were all winners, all very successful. Even though they may have twisted things a little differently in how they taught the game, the message was always the same, and it's clear and consistent. There's a right way to play."

Rambis' NBA journey began when the Knicks selected him in the third round (58th overall) of the 1980 NBA Draft. Although he came to training camp and later returned to the Knicks via a 10-day contract in January 1981, he never appeared in a regular season game for New York, instead playing professionally in Greece during the 1980-81 season.

"I had an opportunity in [1980] training camp to play overseas in Greece," remembers Kurt. "I went down the Knicks roster. It's an 11-man roster at that time, and I'm counting up 13 guaranteed contracts and I'm not one of them. So I go and talk to Red before the morning practice session, and I explained to him that I had this opportunity to go overseas and play in Greece...Red said, 'No, no, no. You're doing a great job. We love everything you're doing.' He was a class act, very much so."

"So I come back for the evening session thinking everything's going to be status quo. Red pulls me into his little office and says, 'Kurt, we've decided to let you take advantage of that other opportunity.' And the funny part of the story is that he said, 'But if you don't mind, can you stick around for the evening session and practice?' I said yeah, I had nothing else to do."

Born on Feb. 25, 1958 in Terre Haute, IN, Rambis earned a B.S. degree in psychology from Santa Clara, where he became the school's all-time leading scorer (1,736 points, since broken). In addition to his playing and coaching career, Kurt has served as a hoop analyst for ESPN, Fox Sports West and, in 2012-13, for the newly-formed Time Warner Cable SportsNet.

Kurt and his wife Linda make their home in Manhattan Beach, CA, and have three adult children: Jesse (28), Jordan (27) and Ali (22).

Jim Clemons

ASSISTANT COACH

Owner of a distinguished coaching resume and a glittering championship legacy, Jim Clemons, one of the NBA's veteran mentors, joined the Knickerbockers as an assistant coach on Sep. 3, 2014.

"I'm excited and encouraged with the possibility of doing something positive with this organization," says Clemons, currently in his 23rd season as an NBA coach. "I'm happy and pleased about the opportunity that's present with the organization. There are opportunities that I find welcoming. It's going to take a lot of hard work and some luck, but that's what sports is about; trying to do your best each and every time out and trying to find a group of people who are single-minded. What I've tried to do my entire athletic career is to be a good worker, a good teammate; and things have worked out. I'll try to do the same here and hopefully that formula will be successful for me."

Clemons, who owns a total of 10 NBA Championship rings (nine as a coach, one as a player), joined the Knicks from the Milwaukee Bucks, for whom he served as an assistant coach in 2013-14.

Jim's NBA coaching career began with seven seasons as an assistant with the Chicago Bulls (1989-90 through 1995-96). He served for 10 years (in two different stints) with the Los Angeles Lakers, from 1999-2000 through 2003-04, and again from 2006-07 through 2010-11. He also spent two seasons with the New Orleans Hornets (2004-05 through 2005-06) as well as last season with the Bucks.

As part of Phil Jackson-led coaching staffs, Clemons was a member of four NBA Championship teams with the Bulls (1991, 1992, 1993 and 1996) and five with the Lakers (2000, 2001, 2002, 2009 and 2010). Translating a championship mindset to the Knicks is an opportunity he relishes.

"The biggest challenge is just trying to figure out, with the personnel available, the understanding and appreciation that you can't do it by yourself," says Clemons, 65. "And in basketball, as with any other team sport, you've got to have the sum of all the parts. And the parts have to be willing and understanding of each other. You have to be hard-working, dedicated, and all the tenets that make winning possible. Giving rather than taking, sometimes."

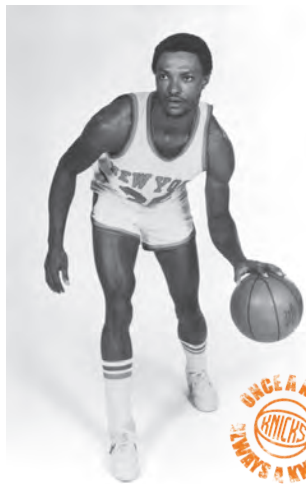

"You have to examine your own personal goals and philosophies and make up your mind that those around you have the same mindset that it is a goal worth sacrificing for," Clemons says. "And at the end of the journey, you'll find your happiness because you know that without the sacrifices, the hard work, the camaraderie that it takes to do things as a collective group, you're not going to achieve success."

"I tell people to this day that I've not taught public school or in a classroom, but that the basketball floor is indeed a classroom that I try to do my teaching within."

In addition to his career as an assistant coach, Clemons served for a season-and-a-half as head coach of the Dallas Mavericks (1996-97 to 1997-98), and has a career NBA head coaching mark of 28-70 (.286).

Prior to joining the Bucks in 2013, Clemons had served for one season as a head coach in the Chinese Basketball Association. He began his coaching career with assistant coaching stints at Furman (1982-83), and at his alma mater, The Ohio State University (1983-84 through 1986-87), and as head coach for two seasons at Youngstown State (1987-88 through 1988-89). In 1998-99, he coached the Chicago Condors of the now-defunct women's American Basketball League.

The 13th overall pick in the 1971 NBA Draft, Jim enjoyed a nine-year playing career (1971-72 through 1979-80) over which he averaged 8.3 ppg over 652 games. As a rookie, he was a member of the fabled 1972 NBA Champion Lakers squad that won a League record 33 straight games under Bill Sharman. He then played five seasons in Cleveland, averaging a career-high 12.2 points and earning NBA All-Defensive second team honors for the 1975-76 "Miracle of Richfield" squad that won the Central Division title under Bill Fitch.

Clemons signed with New York as a free agent on Oct. 10, 1977, with the Knicks sending future Hall of Famer Walt Frazier to the Cavs as compensation. He played a two-and-a-half seasons (180 games) with the Knicks, averaging 6.5 points for the 1977-78 squad that included Phil Jackson and earned a Playoff berth under Head Coach Willis Reed. On Oct. 18, 1979 at Detroit - the fourth game of the season - he earned an additional honor by becoming the first Knick in history to record a three-point field goal in regular season play.

"I got the honor of playing in New York, and the team that we had - and I'll tell anyone to this day - was one of the most talented teams in the League, in 1977-78," he remembers. "It was a good team, but we didn't win. I have very good memories of that team, but they aren't quite what I'd like them to be because we didn't live up to the billing."

Born on Sep. 13, 1949 in Lincolnton, NC, Jim averaged 18.5 ppg over three seasons at Ohio State, earning a degree in education. A member of the Ohio Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2008, Clemons and his wife Cheryl are proud parents of daughters Imani and Rose.

Rasheed Hazzard

ASSISTANT COACH

Born to a basketball life, Rasheed Hazzard's hoop journey has led him to the game's biggest stage.

Following a career with the Los Angeles Lakers during which he was a part of two NBA Championship teams, Hazzard joined the Knickerbockers staff as an assistant coach during the summer of 2014.

"It's an honor and a privilege, that's the best way I can put it," says the 37-year old Hazzard. "If there is such a thing as luck, I'm experiencing that right now. It's more than I could ever have asked for, to be a part of this movement that's getting ready to happen in New York."

Prior to joining the Knicks, Hazzard served for five seasons (2006-07 through 2010-11) in a variety of capacities for the Lakers, beginning as a part-time scout and part-time assistant coach for the D-League Los Angeles D-Fenders. Eventually working his way to fulltime status both as a Lakers scout and assistant coach for the D-Fenders, Hazzard was part of the Lakers staff during their back-to-back NBA Championship years of 2009 and 2010.

The 2014-15 Knicks season will mark his first year as an NBA assistant coach.

"I think my Xs and Os are equally as strong as my ability to develop players," says Rasheed. "I think player development and your ability to do the Xs and Os go hand-in-hand. I think being a part of the triangle offense has really taught me the importance of that."

"Rasheed is a young man who brings a thirst and a passion for the game of basketball," says Knicks Head Coach Derek Fisher. "Having had experience with him before, in L.A. and with his experience with the triangle, working under Phil Jackson, being a scout and doing all the different things he's done in the game at the grass roots level, he's a quality person. Rasheed represents the type of people that we want to work with on a daily basis. I'm excited that he's going to have the opportunity to develop as a coach on a daily basis and really allow his basketball gifts to show."

Prior to joining the Lakers, Rasheed served for five seasons as head basketball coach at his alma mater, Venice (CA) HS, and one season as an assistant coach at the University of Portland (OR).

Rasheed is the son of the late Walt Hazzard, a UCLA legend who averaged 12.6 ppg during a 10-year NBA career primarily with the Lakers and Hawks. Following his playing career - highlighted by nine points in the 1968 NBA All-Star Game at the Old Garden - Walt was a longtime scout and consultant for the Lakers, even after suffering a debilitating stroke in 1996.

"Phil Jackson has been a great mentor and a great friend in my life," says Rasheed. "More than what he's done for me, I appreciate what he did for my father. During those years when Shaq and Kobe were together, he opened doors for my dad. We were at practice almost every day and my dad would be situated right next to Phil, right between him and [assistant coach] Tex Winter. Just including him in that made him feel alive and I always say that experience gave him at least 10 more years with us."

"My dad really instilled thoughtfulness and toughness at the same time. My dad was a unit, he was really good at bringing people together. I think the way he mentored me was that he taught me to work my butt off in everything I was going to do. He felt that if you had the Hazzard name, that meant that you had to work twice as hard as the person who didn't have it because you had to make sure you earned your place. I'd say that was the greatest gift he gave me, instilling that work ethic in me."

A 1998 graduate of George Washington University, Rasheed played four seasons at GW under Head Coach Mike Jarvis. Single, he is a native of Inglewood, CA. Since 2011, Rasheed and his brothers have overseen the Los Angeles-based non-profit Walt Hazzard Hoop Team, which engages inner-city youth in life lessons as well as basketball.

After nearly a decade on the staffs of two Western Conference powers, Brian Keefe joined the Knickerbockers as an assistant coach during the summer of 2014.

"It's truly humbling being with this very special group, led by Phil Jackson and Derek Fisher," says Keefe. "To continue this journey to help this team get back to a championship level, it's very exciting. To be part of one of the storied franchises in the NBA at the Mecca of basketball, I couldn't be more excited."

Currently in his 10th NBA season, Keefe comes to New York after spending the last seven years with the Oklahoma City Thunder. After two seasons as player development coach (including the Thunder's final season in Seattle), he served for five years (2009-10 through 2013-14) as an assistant coach, and was a member of the Thunder's staff during Oklahoma City's march to the 2012 Western Conference Championship.

During his final two years with the Thunder, Keefe counted Derek Fisher - now head coach of the Knicks - among his charges.

"I always could picture Derek coaching, because he was that type of leader, in what he stands for and his character," says Brian. "I didn't know when that would happen, it could have been many years down the line. But the opportunity to be with him and to grow with him is unbelievable."

Prior to joining the Thunder, Keefe served for two seasons (2005-06 through 2006-07) as assistant video coordinator for the San Antonio Spurs, earning an NBA Championship ring following the Spurs' title run in 2007.

"Those two years in San Antonio were like getting a master's in basketball," he says. "You saw how it was supposed to be done, and that's a very unique thing early in your career."

In a relatively short time, Keefe has built an impressive coaching pedigree, serving under the likes of the Spurs' Gregg Popovich, and P.J. Carlesimo and Scott Brooks in Oklahoma City.

"I've been very blessed, first of all starting in college with Max Good, who was very successful at Bryant," says Keefe. "I learned a ton from him. And then getting the chance to be with the San Antonio Spurs, one of the most respected organizations in basketball and getting a chance to be there and learn there every day. And then being with Coach Brooks the last several years, with his character and ability to teach and allowing us coaches to grow along with him, it's something I'm very thankful for."

Brian's coaching career began in 2000-01 as a graduate assistant at the University of South Florida. He then served for four seasons (2001-02 through 2004-05) as an assistant coach at Bryant University in Rhode Island, where one of his players was Joshua Longstaff, who would later join him on the staffs of the Thunder and, ultimately, the Knicks.

"I think it's just about the daily work and the consistency of that, bringing that approach and mindset every day," says Keefe. "If you handle your business in the proper fashion every day, that's the thing I've learned from the places I've been. There's a way to get there, but you can't rush it and you've got to do it daily. It's a daily process and we're not going to skip any steps."

Keefe is a 1999 graduate of the University of Nevada-Las Vegas with a degree in sociology. He played four years collegiately: two at Cal-Irvine and two at UNLV, serving as team captain at both schools. He was named to the All-Big West Second Team in 1996 while at Cal-Irvine.

A native of Winchester, MA, Brian and his wife Cindy are proud parents of daughters Brooke (2) and Noelle (1).

Joshua Longstaff

ASSISTANT COACH

Joshua Longstaff brings youthful enthusiasm - and a wealth of coaching experience - to the New York Knickerbockers.

"Honestly, it's a blessing to come to an organization with so much history, and to be able to come with a guy like Derek, and to carry out his vision," says the 31-year old Longstaff, who is currently in his first Knicks season after joining the staff as an assistant coach in summer 2014. "To work for a guy like Phil Jackson, with his stature and accomplishments, is extremely exciting. I'm expecting to learn as much as I can listening to Phil and Derek. I'm also really excited to be around all the Knick people; they're really tremendous people. I'm from the northeast, so I know the perception of New York and its people - everyone has just been fantastic."

Longstaff joined the Knicks after spending four seasons - 2010-11 through 2013-14 - with the Oklahoma City Thunder. He originally joined the Thunder as player personnel and video coordinator, then spent his final three seasons as video analyst and player development coach. He was a member of the Thunder staff when OKC won the Western Conference Championship in 2012, and coached Knicks headmaster Derek Fisher during Fisher's final two seasons as a player.

"Working with Josh in Oklahoma City, I just became enthralled with his approach, his demeanor, and how easily superstar players and guys who aren't superstar players were just at ease with him in talking about the game and about things that players could do better," says Fisher. "Watching Josh day to day, how hard he worked at being out on the court with players, taking pride in his performance, getting work done in the video room and taking pride in those things. He's another person that, as a human being, is just a salt-of-the-earth type of person."

"Coming into this position, I felt the culture was going to be an important thing for us to re-establish and the kind of people we have wearing Knicks jerseys and shirts, taking pride in who we are. To me, Josh represented all those things, on top of the fact that he loves to work at the game of basketball."

In addition to on-the-bench coaching, Longstaff will be involved in the growing field of individual player development.

"It is really important in today's NBA to develop your players," says Josh. "I think my real strength is being able to adapt to anything that Derek needs me to do. I enjoy player development very much because that's what it's all about...seeing a player go to work, improve every day, and seeing them actually accomplish what they're trying to accomplish."

Prior to joining the Thunder in 2010, the New England product spent five years as a high school coach; two seasons as the head coach at Gorham (ME) HS and three seasons as an assistant coach at Portland HS.

Longstaff, single and a native of Portland, ME, was a four-year letterman at Bryant University, graduating in 2005 with a degree in marketing. While at Bryant, he was coached by Brian Keefe, whom he later joined on the staff of the Thunder and is now also a member of Fisher's staff with the Knicks.

Westchester Knicks

The Westchester Knicks are the NBA Development League affiliate of the New York Knicks. The NBA D-League is the official minor league of the NBA, providing hardcore basketball fans with access to NBA prospects being groomed to impact the next level through high-level competition and comprehensive training and instruction.

The Knicks tip-off their inaugural season this November and will play all 24 of their home games at the Westchester County Center in White Plains; only 10 minutes from MSG Training Center in Greenburgh. The regular season runs November through April, with playoffs culminating at the end of April.

On Mar. 10, 2014, the NBA, The Madison Square Garden Company & Westchester County announced the establishment of the 18th franchise in the NBA Development League and Westchester County's first ever professional sports franchise. NBA CARES' SEASON OF GIVING'

THANKSGIVING DINNER AT CHILDREN'S VILLAGE

Over 150 children from one of the Foundation's partners, Children's Village, enjoyed a special Thanksgiving meal in their decorated gymnasium where Knicks and Liberty players and alumni spent time and interacted with the youth. The kids were treated to a fun-filled event, including a photo booth station, name artists and a holiday gift bag.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING SPREE AT TARGET

As an annual holiday signature event, the New York Knicks and Garden of Dreams provided an experience of a lifetime for thirteen families to enjoy a shopping spree at Target in White Plains, NY. Each family shopped with the help of Knicks City Dancers, 7th Avenue Squad members, Knicks and Liberty Alumni and special guest, Liberty Mascot Maddie.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

To celebrate the NBA Cares Program and the holiday season, the New York Knicks and the Oklahoma City Thunder teamed up to provide gifts for a special holiday gift exchange on court. To make the season a little brighter, all players and head coaches from both teams exchanged wrapped gifts, including iPods, bicycles and digital cameras with local children from Life Center, a partner organization of the Garden of Dreams Foundation. The children and their family members enjoyed the action of the game from catered lounges at Madison Square Garden.

AWARDS & SCHOLARSHIPS

SWEETWATER CLIFTON CITY SPIRIT AWARD

For the 9th season, the New York Knicks have honored local heroes with the Sweetwater City Spirit Award. Named after Nat Sweetwater Clifton, the first African-American to play for the Knicks, the award recognizes those who have made a significant difference in the lives of others. Winners are honored on center court during a Knicks home game and receive a $2,000 donation to a charity of their choice.

DAVE DEBUSSCHERE AWARD

The Dave DeBusschere Award recognizes two male and female High School Seniors that have excelled—both in the classroom and on the basketball court—and exemplify the same heroic characteristics that Knicks Legend Dave DeBusschere carried throughout his life.

JUNIOR KNICKS LEAGUE

PRESENTED BY CHASE & SPRITE

The New York Knicks, Sprite and Chase partnered with the YMCA of Greater New York, New York City Parks & Recreation's 'Millennium Winter Basketball League' and the City Wide Athletic Association to give over 9,000 children, boys & girls ages 7-18, a chance to play organized basketball in a league format. The Junior Knicks League consists of instruction, skill development, league play, Knicks clinics and trips to Madison Square Garden to attend Knicks games. The League also includes an amazing opportunity to play on the Garden floor during halftime and meet Knicks players and legends.

CHARITABLE GIVING & CHARITABLE REQUESTS

The Knicks Community Relations Department fulfills thousands of requests received daily from national and local community organizations. The department sends out autographed photos, basketballs, jerseys, shirts, hats, bookmarks and posters for fundraising auctions. In addition, the Knicks also donated "ballkid" packages to select non-profit charities and organizations.

DREAM NIGHTS

During the 2013-14 season, the Garden of Dreams Foundation had the opportunity to host multiple Dream Nights per month to cheer on the Knicks. Dream Nights were held for 20 children to watch players warm-up and shoot around, take on-court photos with Knicks Alumni, receive custom t-shirts and participate in the Home Team Fan Tunnel!

THANK YOU to Carmelo Anthony for donating tickets, food vouchers and special items throughout the season to make each Dream Night special for the Foundation's children and families.

KNICKS BOWL 15

For the past 15 years, the New York Knicks have hosted the annual Knicks Bowl raising over $2.5 million for the Garden of Dreams Foundation. Presented by Foot Locker on February 10, 2014, the team's loyal supporters, the entire Knicks team, coaching staff, Knicks alumni, athletes and celebrities mingled and bowled at Bowlmor Lanes at Chelsea Piers.

NEW YORK ROLLIN' KNICKS

The NEW YORK ROLLIN' KNICKS 2013-14 season was a resounding success. They traveled all over the country, including: Pennsylvania, Virginia, Arizona, Wisconsin, Florida, Nevada and Kentucky. HISTORY

The Knickerbockers Story

HISTORY

Ned Irish: The Founding Father

THE BEGINNING

It all began on Jun. 6, 1946, when Madison Square Garden was granted a charter franchise in the newly-formed Basketball Association of America. The legendary Ned Irish, who would eventually be enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, was the Knicks' founding father and one of the infant circuit's pioneers.

The newly-christened Knickerbockers debuted on Nov. 1, 1946, edging the Toronto Huskies, 68-66 at famed Maple Leaf Gardens. Former Manhattan College mentor Neil Cohalan was the Knicks' first head coach, while Ossie Schectman, Stan Stutz, Jake Weber, Ralph Kaplowitz and Leo Gottlieb made up the inaugural starting lineup.

THIS NEARLY WAS MINE

New York was playoff-bound in each of its first 10 seasons, nine of those under the leadership of Joe Lapchick, the coaching genius whose 326 career wins helped him carve a niche in the Hall of Fame.

THE CITY GAME. THE CITY'S TEAM. Nearly seven decades of heroes and heroics. That's the legacy and tradition of the New York Knickerbockers, a charter member of the National Basketball Association and one of the benchmark franchises of American sports.

It is a history that includes six of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History – Patrick Ewing, Willis Reed, Walt Frazier, Dave DeBusschere, Earl Monroe and Jerry Lucas...a tradition that embraces four of the 10 Greatest Coaches in League history, led by the legendary Red Holzman...a legacy written across eight trips to the NBA Finals and two World Championships, with the fabled 1970 team cited as one of the 10 Greatest Teams in League annals.

The Knicks made three consecutive trips to the NBA Finals, in 1951, 1952 and 1953. But they would be denied the summit all three times: first by Rochester, and then by the dynastic Minneapolis Lakers in 1952 and 1953.

Carl Braun was the club's premier scorer during those early days, averaging 14.1 ppg over a career that spanned 12 seasons and five All-Star selections. Braun's teammates included Harry Gallatin, the ferocious rebounder who still holds the club record of 610 consecutive games played; the great Dick McGuire, who set a playmaking standard by leading the club in assists for seven straight seasons (1950-56), popular Ernie Vandeweghe and pioneer pro Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton. The greatness of the early Knicks has been certified with the enshrinements of Gallatin, Clifton and McGuire into the Hall of Fame, joining Lapchick and Irish.

LEAN YEARS

New York made the playoffs only once in a 10-year span from the late '50s into the '60s, a period in which Iona's Richie Guerin earned a permanent place in Knicks lore - and, in 2013, long-overdue election to the Basketball Hall of Fame - with his sensational scoring and hard-nosed play. A six-time All-Star with New York, Guerin was the first Knick to score 50 points in a game when he poured in 57 on Dec. 11, 1959 against Syracuse, just one of 13 40-point performances during his career. Willie Naulls, Ray Felix, Jumpin' Johnny Green and Ken Sears were also major Knick heroes in those days.

The head coaching assignments during that era were handled by Vince Boryla, Fuzzy Levane, Braun, Eddie Donovan, Gallatin and McGuire.

TAKE IT ALL!

Following a decade in the doldrums, the Knicks franchise would ultimately reach its zenith under William "Red" Holzman, the Hall of Fame coach who took over the reins in late 1967, just prior to the team's move from the venerable Old Garden on 49th Street to the gleaming New Garden above Penn Station. As Holzman assumed the helm, the team's "Golden Era" - which would include four 50+win seasons, three Eastern Conference Championships and, of course, two NBA titles - was launched.

The Knicks climbed to basketball's pinnacle in 1969-70, riding a club record 18-game winning streak and a 60-22 regular season mark to the team's first NBA World Championship. Captain Willis Reed, the League's MVP, will forever be remembered for stepping onto the Garden court in spite of his severely injured leg, to the deafening roar of a capacity crowd...the impetus for a stirring and decisive seventh game triumph in the Finals against the Los Angeles Lakers. With Reed scoring the Knicks' first two baskets and Walt Frazier adding 36 points and 19 assists, New York nailed down its first NBA title with a 113-99 Game Seven win, forever stamping May 8, 1970 as the ultimate red-letter day in team history.

Along with Reed's contributions, the unprecedented success was keyed by fabled teammates such as Frazier, Bill Bradley, Dave DeBusschere and Dick Barnett, along with "Minutemen" Mike Riordan, Cazzie Russell and Dave Stallworth. Smart drafting and shrewd trades by Holzman and general manager Eddie Donovan - especially the fabled December 1968 acquisition of DeBusschere from Detroit - laid the foundation for success.

Holzman's club led the NBA in team defense five times over a six-year span from 1968-69 to 1973-74. The team captured the citizenry of the world's greatest basketball city, selling out the New Garden 26 times in 1969-70 after recording just six regular season sellouts in 22 seasons at the Old Garden.

Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, a Knicks nemesis during his days with the Baltimore Bullets, joined the Knicks in 1971-72 and teamed with Frazier to form one of the greatest backcourts in NBA history. Also acquired to shore up the front line was perennial All-Star Jerry Lucas.

In 1971-72, despite the season-long absence of Reed due to injury, the Knicks won the Eastern Conference title with Playoff wins over Baltimore and Boston. In 1972-73, Reed returned and a veteran Knick squad gutted its way to its second NBA Championship. They outlasted Boston in a classic Eastern Final series and then beat the Lakers in the Finals, becoming the first team in NBA history to defeat two 60-win teams en route to a title.

In tribute to the championship heroes, the retired numbers of Reed, Bradley, Frazier, Barnett, DeBusschere and Monroe hang from the Garden rafters. Reed, Bradley, Frazier, DeBusschere, Monroe and Lucas have all joined Holzman in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

SLUMP, THEN SURGE

New York was a playoff force for nine straight seasons (1966-67 through 1974-75). But then a period of lean times befell the club as the '80s dawned, despite headline performances by Spencer Haywood, Ray Williams, Michael Ray Richardson and future Hall of Famer Bob McAdoo. Holzman and Reed presided as coach as the Knicks made the Playoffs only twice in a seven-year span from 1976 to 1982

Two dynamic and unforgettable personalities—both future Hall of Famers—played the central roles as the Knicks' fortunes turned in the early '80s...Head Coach Hubie Brown and scorer extraordinaire Bernard King. In 1984, Brown guided the Knicks to a memorable first-round playoff victory over Detroit. King developed into perhaps the greatest offensive force in club history, leading the NBA in scoring with a 32.9 average in 1984-85, becoming the Knicks' only League-leading scorer over the franchise's first 66 years.

JACKPOT!

On Mother's Day 1985, the Knicks won the rights to Georgetown superstar Patrick Ewing in the first-ever NBA Lottery. It would prove to be a major turning point in the club's history. Ewing authored 15 memorable years in New York, becoming an 11-time All-Star, the all-time club leader in virtually every category and arguably the greatest player to ever wear the orange and blue, a headline performer whose No. 33 would be hoisted to the Garden rafters in 2003. But a crippling 1985 knee injury to King set off a three-year dry spell in which the Knicks would win only 24, 23 and 24 games, missing the Playoffs all three years as Garden attendance plummeted.

But a decade-plus period in which the Knicks would again reign as one of the game's elite began in 1987-88. Under General Manager Al Bianchi and Hall of Fame-bound Head Coach Rick Pitino and buoyed by Rookie of the Year Mark Jackson, the Knicks gained a playoff spot in the season's final game. The next year, with newly-acquired Charles Oakley and Kiki Vandeweghe on board, the Knicks won 52 games (including 26 straight at home) and the Atlantic Division title. In 1989-90, behind an MVP-caliber season by Ewing, the Knicks rose from an 0-2 hole and defeated the arch-rival Celtics in the first playoff round with an emotional Game Five triumph at Boston Garden.

IT'S ALL ABOUT SOUL

Club president Dave Checketts - named on Mar. 1, 1991 - and eventual President and General Manager Ernie Grunfeld then guided the Knicks into an unforgettable era by hiring future Hall of Fame coach Pat Riley and adding the likes of Xavier McDaniel, Rolando Blackman, Anthony Mason, Doc Rivers, Charles Smith and Derek Harper. The Riley Era - 1991-92 through 1994-95 - resulted in an unprecedented four consecutive 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, and a series of electrifying Playoff runs that captivated the entire nation.

In 1992-93, the Knicks rewrote the club record book with a franchise-record-tying 60 wins, a club record 37 home victories and, ultimately, their first appearance in the Eastern Conference Finals in nearly two decades.

Then, keyed by one of the greatest defensive units in NBA history (91.5 points allowed) and All-Star seasons from Ewing, Oakley and John Starks, the 1993-94 Knicks ended the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an emotional playoff triumph, then bested Indiana to earn their first Eastern Conference Championship in 21 years, only to be denied the ultimate prize in a seven-game nail-biter NBA Finals series against Houston. A 55-win season in 1994-95 and a heartbreaking seven-game Playoff loss to Indiana were followed soon after by Riley's resignation as head coach.

As a final, fitting postscript to the Riley Era, both Ewing and Riley earned first-ballot election to the Basketball Hall of Fame with the Class of 2008.

JEFF'S TIME

After seven years as an assistant coach, youthful Jeff Van Gundy succeeded future Hall-of-Famer Don Nelson as head coach on Mar. 8, 1996. Following the 1995-96 season, Grunfeld engineered an extensive off-season facelift that put Larry Johnson, Allan Houston, Chris Childs and Buck Williams in Knicks uniforms. The results were a 57-win season in 1996-97, followed by an emotional first-round Playoff triumph over Miami in 1997-98, a season marred by a wrist fracture suffered by Ewing that sidelined the All-Star center for the final two-thirds of the regular season.

Electrifying Latrell Sprewell and youthful Marcus Camby came aboard in 1998-99 to help write one of the most memorable chapters in the club's storied history. Following a 27-23 regular season, the Knicks stormed from the East's eighth seed to win the Eastern Conference title with thrilling Playoff triumphs over arch-rivals Miami and Indiana and a decisive four-game sweep of Atlanta, before the ultimate heartbreak of a five-game Finals loss to San Antonio.

In 2000, the Knicks made their second straight march to the East Finals, highlighted by their third straight Playoff triumph over Miami, as Ewing concluded his 15-year, Hall of Fame Knick career. Van Gundy, meanwhile, would ultimately log 248 career wins to become the third-winningest coach in franchise history, behind only the storied duo of Holzman and Lapchick.

THE KNICKS ARE BACK...

Following the end of both the Knicks' string of 14 consecutive Playoff appearances and their decade-long streak of 433 home sellouts, Hall-of-Famer Isiah Thomas was appointed president, basketball operations on Dec. 22, 2003. Over the next five seasons, Hall-of-Famers Lenny Wilkens, Larry Brown and ultimately Thomas would coach the Knicks, with Wilkens leading New York to a Playoff berth in 2004.

The Knicks' journey back toward elite status began in the spring of 2008, with the naming of New York native Donnie Walsh as president, basketball operations and the hiring of Mike D'Antoni as head coach. In 2008-09, D'Antoni engineered a nine-game improvement in the win column. The following year, David Lee became the Knicks' first NBA All-Star since 2001 while Nate Robinson capped a span in which he won three NBA Slam Dunk Championships.

Meanwhile, Walsh presided over an extensive roster makeover climaxed by an eight-month period over 2010-11 in which the Knicks acquired perennial All-Stars Amar'e Stoudemire from Phoenix and Carmelo Anthony from Denver.

In 2010-11, the Knicks marched to their first winning record in a decade and their first Playoff berth since 2004. In 2011-12, newly-promoted General Manager Glen Grunwald named Mike Woodson head coach on Mar. 14, 2012. The Knicks went 18-6 under Woodson and nailed down their second straight Playoff berth, lifted by Anthony, NBA Defensive Player of the Year Tyson Chandler and unheralded free agent signee Jeremy Lin.

The 2012-13 campaign turned out to be one of the most memorable in recent team history, as the Knicks won 54 games en route to their first Atlantic Division title in nearly two decades. Anthony led the NBA with a 28.7 scoring average, joining newly-minted Hall of Famer Bernard King as the only Knicks ever to pace the League in scoring. J.R. Smith was named the League's Sixth Man of the Year, while Chandler earned NBA All-Star honors. In the Playoffs, the Knicks defeated the arch-rival Celtics to advance to the East Semis for the first time since 2000. The following season, Anthony poured in 62 points against Charlotte on Jan. 24, 2014, eclipsing King's fabled 60-pointer on Christmas Day 1984 as the greatest single-game scoring performance in franchise history.

Stoudemire's original 2010 promise that, "The Knicks are back!" was further validated with the completion of the spectacular Garden Transformation and the spring 2014 hiring of Hall of Fame coach Phil Jackson as team president and five-time NBA champion Derek Fisher as head coach. With championship pedigree at the top and the world's greatest basketball city behind it, New York's Team faces the 2010s with the promise of even greater heights.

What Is A Knickerbocker?

HISTORY

The Name

The term “Knickerbockers” traces its origin to the Dutch settlers who came to the New World -- and especially to what is now New York -- in the 1600s. Specifically, it refers to the style of pants the settlers wore... pants that rolled up just below the knee, which became known as “Knickerbockers”, or “knickers”.

In 1809, legendary author Washington Irving solidified the knickerbocker name in New York lore when he wrote the satiric A History of New York from the Beginning of the World to the End of the Dutch Dynasty under the pseudonym Diedrich Knickerbocker. Later known as Knickerbocker's History of New York, Irving's book introduced the word “knickerbocker” to signify a New Yorker who could trace his or her ancestry to the original Dutch settlers.

With the publication of Irving's book, the Dutch settler “Knickerbocker” character became synonymous with New York City. The city's most popular symbol of the late 19th and early 20th centuries was “Father Knickerbocker”, complete with cotton wig, three-cornered hat, buckled shoes, and, of course, knickered pants.

In Meredith Willson's 1957 The Music Man, Professor Harold Hill makes reference to “The kids in the knickerbockers” in the show-stopping song “(Ya Got) Trouble”, then refers to the ultimate in adolescent rebellion by asking “The minute your son leaves the house, does he rebuckle his knickerbockers below the knee?”

At the same time, the term “Knickerbocker” became indelibly linked to anything and everything New York...from Jacob Ruppert's Knickerbocker Beer to the 1938 Broadway musical Knickerbocker Holiday (which starred Walter Huston and featured the haunting “September Song”) to famed society gossip columnists Cholly Knickerbocker (the nom de plume used by Maury Paul and Igor Cassini) and Suzy Knickerbocker (Aileen Mehle).

The Knickerbocker name had its first use in the sports world in 1845, when Alexander Cartwright's Manhattan-based baseball team -- the first organized team in baseball history -- was named the “New York Knickerbockers” or the “Knickerbocker Nine”. The Knickerbocker name stayed with the team even after it moved its base of operations to Elysian Fields at Hoboken, N.J. in 1846. (The baseball link may have prompted Casey Stengel to joyously exclaim, “It's great to be back as the manager of the Knickerbockers!” when he was named pilot of the newborn Mets in 1961).

Thus, the Knickerbocker name had been an integral part of the New York scene for more than a century when the Basketball Association of America granted a charter franchise to the city in the summer of 1946. As can best be determined, the final decision to call the team the “Knickerbockers” was made by the club's founder, the legendary Ned Irish.

The late Fred Podesta, the longtime Garden executive who passed away in 1999, once recalled, “The name came out of a hat. We were all sitting in the office one day -- Irish, (publicity man) Lester Scott and a few others on the staff. We each put a name in the hat, and when we pulled them out, most of them said Knickerbockers, after Father Knickerbocker, the symbol of New York City. It soon was shortened to Knicks.”

In keeping with another New York tradition, the team's colors have always (except for the years from 1979-80 through 1982-83) been orange, blue and white...the official colors of New York City.

So now you know.

The Logo

Including minor color and style alterations, the Knicks have used only three primary logos in their 69-year history:

Father Knick: The original Knicks logo, used from the inaugural 1946-47 season through 1963-64, was that of a smiling Father Knickerbocker dribbling a basketball, the brainchild of famed sports cartoonist Willard Mullin of the New York World-Telegram.

Old School Classic: For the 1964-65 season, the Knicks unveiled their “classic roundball” logo, created by artist Bud Freeman of the J.C. Bull advertising agency. It was the logo under which the Knicks won both of their NBA Championships, and, with minor color and style alterations, remained in use through 1991-92, a total of 28 seasons.

Alterations to the “classic roundball” logo included maroon lettering (1980-81 through 1982-83), and the “brown ball” (1983-84 through 1988-89) and “orange ball” (1989-90 through 1991-92) versions that were introduced to more closely conform to standard PMS colors.

During the late ‘60s and early ‘70s, the Knicks also used a secondary “ball-in-the-box” logo on game tickets and selected club merchandise.

The Triangle: On Jun. 17, 1992, the Knicks unveiled a unique, updated version of the club logo, featuring three-dimensional, modernized lettering newly framed in a triangle. The new logo was designed by NBA Marketing, an effort headed by creative director Tom O’Grady.

In 1995-96, the words “New York” were added at the top of the logo. In 2011-12, several subtle style changes were made, including bolder trim, a shade of silver and the elimination of the black dropshadow beneath the letters.

The “triangle” logo will be in use for its 23rd season in 2014-15. While the Knicks logo has sometimes been depicted without the triangle in recent years, the “triangle” version - and nothing else - is the definitive primary club symbol.

And More: While the “triangle” logo remains the Knicks’ primary trademark, the club has used several additional secondary logos, including the Golden Anniversary logo in 1996-97, the “Knicks 2000” millennium logo in 1999-2000, the familiar “NYK Subway Token” logo, and – introduced in 2011-12 – a newly-designed “roundball” logo that updates the “ball-in-the-box” emblem of the late ‘60s and early ‘70s.

First introduced in 1995-96 and widely used over the past decade, the “NYK Subway Token” logo took on additional nostalgic value with the formal retirement of the subway token by the city’s Transportation Authority in spring 2003. Several subtle changes, including a thinning of the letter font, were incorporated into the “Subway Token” logo in 2011-12. The “Subway Token” logo was added to the backs of the players’ jerseys in 2002-03, then replaced by the new secondary “roundball” logo as part of a new uniform design unveiled on Sep. 6, 2012.

Knicks Date Book

HISTORY

A listing of some of the milestone dates in the Knickerbockers' 68-year history as a charter member of the NBA.

Jun. 6, 1946: The Knicks are born at the first organizational meeting of the Basketball Association of America. New York is granted a charter franchise, along with Boston (Celtics), Philadelphia (Warriors), Providence (Steamrollers), Toronto (Huskies), Washington (Capitals), Chicago (Stags), Cleveland (Rebels), Detroit (Falcons), Pittsburgh (Ironmen) and St. Louis (Bombers)...Of the 11 original NBA franchises, only the Knicks, Celtics and Warriors remain, with the Knicks and Celtics the only two charter members still in their original cities.

Jul. 23, 1946: New York's BAA entry announces its name...the Knickerbockers.

Nov. 1, 1946: The First Game in Knicks History. Knicks defeat Toronto, 68-66 at fabled Maple Leaf Gardens. Leo Gottlieb leads the Knicks with 12 points.

Nov. 11, 1946: The Big Apple sees New York's Team for the first time, as the Knicks make their home debut. Before a crowd of 17,205 at the Old Garden on 49th Street, the Knicks lose to Chicago in overtime, 78-68. CCNY's Sonny Hertzberg leads the Knicks with 14 points.

Apr. 12, 1952: In the first game of the NBA Finals against the Lakers at St. Paul, the Knicks are victimized by a legendary non-call by officials Sid Borgia and Stan Stutz. Late in the first period, New York's Al McGuire hits a driving layup, and is fouled. However, McGuire is sent to the line for two free throws...Borgia and Stutz merely called the foul, and neither saw the ball go in the basket! Despite the protestations of coach Joe Lapchick (including a personal appeal to NBA commissioner Maurice Podoloff, seated at courtside), the call stands. McGuire goes to the line and hits one of two free throws. So, instead of a possible three points on the play, the Knicks get just one. Ultimately, it proves most costly as the Lakers win in overtime, 83-79, en route to a seven-game series triumph.

Jan. 21, 1954: The Old Garden hosts the NBA All-Star Game for the first time, and 16,487 see the East triumph in overtime, 98-93 behind Bob Cousy's 20 points. George Mikan's two (underhanded) free throws with no time left in regulation send the game into the extra session. It's the first of three NBA All-Star Games that will be played at the Old Garden.

Mar. 2, 1962: In the greatest single-game scoring performance in NBA history, Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain scores 100 points as the Warriors defeat the Knicks, 169-147 at Hershey, PA. Philadelphia's 169 points still stand as an all-time opposition high vs. Knicks.

Dec. 9, 1967: Before a packed Garden house of 18,499 (one of only six times the Knicks sold out the Old Garden) and a worldwide press contingent, Bill Bradley makes his long-awaited Knicks debut. Entering the game at the start of the second quarter, Dollar Bill nails his first pro shot, a left side baseline jumper. Bradley winds up with eight points in 20 minutes, but it isn't enough as the Knicks lose to Detroit, 124-121.

Dec. 27, 1967: Red Holzman is named head coach, replacing Dick McGuire (the two exchange positions, with McGuire named head scout).

Jan. 23, 1968: Three weeks before closing its doors forever, the Old Garden plays host to its third and last NBA All-Star Game. Before a sellout crowd of 18,422, Philadelphia's Hal Greer scores 21 points (19 in the third quarter) to lead the East to a 144-124 win. Of the 27 players and coaches selected to participate in the 1968 Game, 15 of them would be named among the NBA's 50 Greatest Players at the League's Golden Anniversary celebration in 1996-97. The '68 All-Star Game is the first NBA All-Star Game to be televised live from coast-to-coast on a major network (ABC) in prime time.

Feb. 10 and 14, 1968: Farewell to one home, hello to another. On the 10th, the Knicks play their last game at the Old Garden; then, four days later, play their first game at the New Garden. The Knicks win both, taking the finale on 49th Street, 115-97 over the 76ers, then winning their first game at 33rd and Seventh, 114-102 over San Diego.

Dec. 19, 1968: The Trade...Walt Bellamy and Howard Komives to Detroit for Dave DeBusschere.

Nov. 28, 1969: "What a game! What a game!" shouts TV voice Bob Wolff. Knicks score six points in the final 16 seconds to defeat Cincinnati, 106-105, and run their winning streak to a then-NBA record 18 straight games (the streak will end the next night with a loss to Detroit at MSG). The game against the Bob Cousy-coached Royals is played at the old Cleveland Arena, later the original home of the Cavs and immortal in rock 'n roll history as the site of Alan Freed's legendary 1952 Moondog Coronation Ball.

May 8, 1970: CHAMPS! Knicks 113, Lakers 99 in Game Seven of the Finals at MSG. Willis Reed's (4 pts, 27 min) last-minute entrance ignites the Garden, then Knicks get 36 points and 19 assists from Walt Frazier to nail down their first NBA title.

Nov. 18, 1972: Trailing Milwaukee 86-68 late in the fourth quarter, Knicks run off 19 straight points in the game's final 5:11 to defeat the Bucks, 87-86 at MSG, in perhaps the most famous regular season game in club history.

Apr. 22, 1973: Roaring back from a 17-point second-half deficit, Knicks outlast Boston 117-110 in a double-overtime thriller in Game Four of the East Finals at the Garden. Walt Frazier leads the way with 37 points as Knicks take a 3-1 series lead over Boston.

Apr. 29, 1973: After squandering a 3-1 series lead with losses in Games Five and Six, Knicks nail down the Eastern Conference title with a do-or-die 94-78 Game Seven triumph at Boston, becoming the first team ever to defeat the Celtics in Game Seven of a Playoff series.

May 10, 1973: CHAMPS AGAIN! Knicks 102, Lakers 93 in Game Five of the Finals at the LA Forum. Earl Monroe scores a game-high 23 points while Willis Reed (16.4 points, 9.2 rebounds) is named Finals MVP for the second time in four years.

Jan. 31-Feb. 1, 1984: Back-to-back 50-point games for Bernard King (at San Antonio and Dallas).

Dec. 25, 1984: Bernard King pours in 60 points - a Knicks single-game record that would stand for nearly three decades - in a 120-114 Christmas Day loss to New Jersey at the Garden.

Mar. 23, 1985: On his way to becoming the first Knick to lead the League in scoring (32.9 ppg) - and the last until 2012-13 - Bernard King suffers a torn right anterior cruciate ligament in a game at Kansas City, an injury that will haunt the Knicks for years to come.

May 12, 1985: Knicks win the first-ever NBA Lottery, enabling them to select Georgetown center Patrick Ewing in the upcoming NBA Draft.

Jan. 15, 1990: Trent Tucker's three-point bomb off a Mark Jackson inbound (coming with the bare minimum of 0:00.1 showing on the clock) gives the Knicks a 109-106 Martin Luther King Day win over Chicago at the Garden and leads the following year to the institution of the 0.3-second "Trent Tucker Rule".

May 6, 1990: Knicks complete one of the most stunning turnarounds in Playoff history with a 121-114 Game Five victory at Boston, enabling them to snap an overall 26-game losing streak at Boston Garden and become just the third team in League history to rally from an 0-2 deficit to win a best-of-five series.

Knicks Date Book

HISTORY

Dec. 18, 1992: Two years after their fabled 1990 Playoff win, Knicks end another losing streak at Boston Garden with 113-87 rout of Celtics, snapping a 23-game regular season losing streak on the fabled parquet floor (first regular season win at Boston since Feb. 29, 1984).

May 25, 1993: In the final minute of Game Two of the East Finals against Chicago, John Starks authors perhaps the single most famous play in Knicks history, splitting the Bulls defense for "The Dunk", a driving, left-handed tomahawk slam that sends the Garden into a frenzy. Coming with :47.3 left, The Dunk gives the Knicks a five-point lead in their eventual 96-91 win. (Knicks led series 2-0 after this game, but would fall to the Bulls in six).

Dec. 16, 1993: Patrick Ewing becomes the Knicks' all-time leading scorer with his 14,618th career point, passing Walt Frazier (14,617)... Ewing's record-breaker is a 12-foot baseline jumper (Oakley assist) with 9:39 left in the third quarter of a 108-85 win over the Lakers at MSG.

May 22, 1994: Knicks end the three-year championship reign of the Chicago Bulls with an 87-77 win in Game Seven of the East Semis at MSG.

Jun. 5, 1994: Knicks earn their first trip to the NBA Finals in 21 years, defeating Indiana 94-90 in Game Seven of the East Finals at MSG. Ewing (24 points, 22 rebounds) authors the game's key play, a follow-up, two-handed slam of Starks' missed layup, to give NY the lead for good with :26.9 left.

Jun. 22, 1994: Knicks title dreams fall one game short of reality as they lose Game Seven of the NBA Finals, 90-84 at Houston. It's their 25th Playoff game of the season, an all-time NBA record that would not be broken until 2008 (Boston).

Mar. 28, 1995: The Double Nickel Game...Two weeks after returning to basketball, Chicago's Michael Jordan scores 55 points (21-37 FGA, 3-4 from Downtown, 10-11 FTA) to lead the Bulls to a 113-111 win over the Knicks at MSG.

Jun. 15, 1995: Pat Riley resigns as head coach, after leading Knicks to four 50+ win seasons, two Atlantic Division titles, two trips to the Conference Finals, and the 1994 Eastern Conference Championship.

Oct. 29, 1996: The NBA unveils its 50th Anniversary team to include Dave DeBusschere, Patrick Ewing, Walt Frazier, Jerry Lucas, Earl Monroe and Willis Reed.

Nov. 1, 1996: Fifty years to the day after playing their first game, the Knicks return to Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens to open their 50th Anniversary season, defeating the Raptors 107-99.

Dec. 30, 1996: The team records its 2,000th regular season victory, defeating the New Jersey Nets, 98-86, at Madison Square Garden.

Dec. 20, 1997: Ewing suffers the most devastating injury of his career, a Lunate dislocation and torn ligaments of the right wrist, in the final seconds of the first half of a 98-78 loss at Milwaukee. The injury will sideline the perennial All-Star until the second round of the Playoffs.

Feb. 8, 1998: Garden IV hosts its first NBA All-Star Game, the first mid-season classic in New York in 30 years. An All-Star for the 12th time, Chicago's Michael Jordan earns MVP honors with 23 points in the East's 135-114 win.

Nov. 13, 1998: Leukemia claims the life of Hall of Fame Coach Red Holzman at age 78.

Youngest/Oldest Players

In 2004 and 2005, Trevor Ariza and Jackie Butler surpassed Carl Braun as the youngest man to have ever worn the orange and blue. Braun signed a baseball contract after his sophomore year at Colgate and forfeited his amateur status across the board in all sports. The Knicks signed him in the summer of '47, two years before his class graduated and he made his pro basketball debut on Nov. 13, 1947 against Washington.

The oldest player to appear in a game for the Knicks was Herb Williams, who was 41 years, four months and nine days when he made his final appearance in Game 5 of the 1999 NBA Finals against San Antonio on Jun. 25, 1999 to register one minute played. His last regular season appearance was on May 2, 1999 at Indiana at 41 years, two months and 16 days old.

Welcome to the 2014-15 Knickerbockers season, New York's 69th campaign as a charter member of the NBA. Here are a few guidelines which we hope will assist you in your coverage this season:

Credentials: Three media credentials are honored for admission to the Garden: 1) Knicks 2014-15 season working media passes; 2) Knicks daily passes (good for that specific game only), and 3) 2014-15 NBA identification card. Knicks and/or NBA season working media passes must include the headshot of the bearer. Holders of daily passes may be asked to submit a valid government-issued photo ID. NO OTHER CREDENTIALS WILL BE HONORED.

Application for season or game credentials may be made by emailing knicks.credentials@msg.com and must be submitted by your outlet's editor. Requests for single game credentials must be made by e-mail to the Knicks' office at least 48 hours prior to game time. Day-of-game requests will not be honored. Radio stations, magazines and weekly newspapers will be accommodated on a game-by-game, space-available basis. When applying for the first time, requests from magazines and weekly newspapers, websites, radio and TV stations must be made on company letterhead and must include copies of the publication and web analytics (if applicable). Applying for credentials does not guarantee confirmation. When in the Garden, media members must wear their credentials in clear sight at all times. All credentials are non-transferable. Please adhere to the above to avoid embarrassing situations for both yourself and for us.

Coaches Pre and Post-Game: Knicks Head Coach Derek Fisher will conduct his pre and post-game media sessions in the Press Conference Room, located down the hall from the visitors' lockerroom, on the fifth floor. A multi-box/amplification system will be set up. During post-game coach's media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch.

Game-Day Interviews: Participating radio and TV stations/networks are strongly urged to conduct their game-day interviews at the morning shootaround, rather than at the arena prior to the game.

Locker Rooms: Both the Knicks and visitors' locker rooms are located at court level on the 33rd Street (player benches) side of the Garden. As per NBA regulations, the Knicks' locker room will be open for a 30-minute period, ending 45 minutes prior to game time (for example, the room will be open from 6:15 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. for a 7:30 start). The room will reopen within 15 minutes after the final buzzer. During post-game media sessions, priority must be given to those media on deadline (print and live broadcast), and interviews should be limited to game comments during the deadline crunch. Your cooperation is asked in maintaining a working atmosphere in the locker rooms at all times. Any media members using their credentials for the purpose of obtaining autographs or taking photographs for personal use will have their credentials immediately revoked.

Notes: Game notes are available in the John F.X. Condon Press Room beginning two hours prior to game time. (For visiting media, game notes, credentials, media guide and recent news clips will be delivered to their hotel the night before, or the morning of, the game). Game notes, running sheets, quarter-by-quarter sheets and box scores are all available from the Knicks gamenight staff, as well as in the press workroom during and after the game. Post-game quotes, notes, practice information and boxscores of other NBA games will be available in the press workroom as soon as possible after the game.

Parking: There is no media parking area at Madison Square Garden. However, there are numerous pay indoor and outdoor parking areas in the immediate vicinity.

Phones: Media wishing to order a phone line for their exclusive use should call Bill Bolan of Garden Telecommunications at (212) 465-6009, and must also inform Knicks PR so that a specific location can be assigned. Due to the quick changeover for other Garden events, all post-game stories should be filed from the press workroom and not from the press seats.

Photographers: Positions for credentialed photographers are numbered and located on the baselines at the Seventh Avenue and Eighth Avenue ends of the Garden. There are no photo positions along the sidelines. Freelance photographers will not be credentialed unless they are on specific assignment from a magazine or daily newspaper. No "roving" passes are issued and photographers cannot shoot from anywhere outside their assigned spot. If you do not have a spot, you will have to work out of the press room.

Please Note The Following Photo Regulations:

- Please consult the posted photo charts for your assigned positions.
- Please do not move from your assigned photo positions during game action. Movement is permitted only during timeouts and quarter breaks.
- Please shoot only from your assigned positions unless cleared to move by a Knicks PR representative.
- Please do not move into any photo position marked "Reserved".
- Messengers are not permitted to sit at courtside.
- Please store all coats, jackets and extra equipment in the press room.
- Please keep your courtside equipment to a bare minimum (one small Domke bag).
- All still and TV photographers must observe the NBA's mandatory "Four-Foot Lane" rule.

Baseline photo positions are extremely limited. Due to frequent national TV coverage of Knicks home games, additional space must be reserved for hand-held TV cameras and will greatly reduce the available space for still photographers.

In addition to the "Four-Foot Lane" rule, please be aware of other NBA-enforced regulations: All still and TV cameras must have rubber-capped lenses. Cameras mounted on the basket stanchion must be set back at least four inches from the edge of the padding. Cameras mounted behind the backboard cannot be visible inside the target box from any angle. Tripods and remote cameras placed on the court surface are not permitted. Use of flash is not permitted.

Media Information

THE FOURTH ESTATE

Pregame Court Access: Media are permitted to stand courtside to watch pregame warm-up starting with 90 minutes on the game clock. However, media must remain on the baselines and sidelines of the court. Under no circumstances, should media walk directly on the inbound portion of the court or interrupt player pregame warm-up routines. At the 5:00 mark on the game clock, all media without courtside positions must leave the court and head to their game-time assigned area.

Practices: Knicks practice sessions are held at Madison Square Garden Training Center in Greenburgh, NY, located in Westchester County approximately 28 miles north of New York City.

Players will be available on the court for 15-30 minutes after practice. Player availability will be preceded by a media session with Coach Fisher. At game-day shootarounds, players will be available either before or after the session.

Knicks practices are always subject to last-minute change and/or cancellation. Media covering practice should always call the Knicks PR office to confirm times before trekking to Greenburgh.

The press workstation is located above the dining area, with work stations for print, photo and broadcast media. The press workstation is for the exclusive use of working media filing on deadline. When usually I came to visit him at dusk there was nothing to do. He stood in the shack, counting tickets and rubbing his belly. The radio was always on. "Man, have you dug that mad Marty Glickman announcing basketball games – up-to-midcourt-bounce-fake-set-shot, swish, two points. Absolutely the greatest announcer I ever heard." He was reduced to simple pleasures like these.

We've had our show at the new Madison Square Garden

...soon they'll have theirs

The scene is the new Madison Square Garden Center, as it appeared several months ago. Most of its steel framing was already in place. Overhead, Bethlehem crews were erecting the steel cables that will support the roof.

That was our show. Later this year the Sports and Entertainment Center will open to the many activities represented in our photograph—and more.

New York has had three Madison Square Gardens, but never one to equal this one. Circular in shape, 425 feet in diameter, it is as tall as a 13-story building. And because those cables support the roof, there are no columns inside. Every one of the 20,234 seats will have a perfect view of the action.

Bethlehem supplies construction steels for schools, motels, apartments, hospitals and buildings of many kinds. Other types of Bethlehem steel go into bed-springs, appliances, handyman's tools, and automotive products.

THE WORLD'S MOST FAMOUS ARENA

The floor of Madison Square Garden itself is 45 feet above the street. Below the floor are a 48-lane bowling center, a 5,227-seat forum, a 501-seat cinema, the Hall of Fame, and the National Art Museum of Sport. Steel girders and trusses frame the building's various levels, and support the entire structure above Penn Station, which was entirely rebuilt below street level.

1879-1889: 26th Street and Madison Avenue

BEGINNINGS

The current Garden - located between 31st and 33rd Streets and Seventh and Eighth Avenues on Manhattan's West Side - is the fourth building (third site) to be named Madison Square Garden.

Garden I was located at Madison Square: 26th Street and Madison Avenue. It was originally opened in 1874 (at a cost of $35,000) by the legendary P.T. Barnum as "Barnum's Monster Classical and Geological Hippodrome." However, it was soon renamed "Gilmore's Garden" when the lease was auctioned off to bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore (the term "Garden" was used often during this period to denote a place of public gathering and entertainment).

The building, which had 28-foot walls without a roof, hosted a varied schedule of social and fraternal meetings, flower shows and commercial exhibitions. When Gilmore's lease expired in 1878, it was picked up briefly by W. M. Tieson. The following year, William Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad assumed control of the facility and officially renamed it "Madison Square Garden" on May 31, 1879. Featuring a sports and entertainment program that stressed such events as boxing and the National Horse Show, Garden I stood until its demolition in 1889.

Garden II was constructed on the site of Garden I, opening on Jun. 16, 1890 at a cost of $1.5 million. It contained an 8,000-seat main arena, 1,500-seat concert hall, 1,200-seat theatre and the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The Spanish Renaissance-style structure was topped by its most famous feature: a 32-story tower and roof garden atop which stood Augustus Saint-Gauden's gold statue of Diana, Goddess of the Hunt.

Stanford White, the renowned architect who designed Garden II, also figured in its most famous - and infamous - event. On the night of Jun. 25, 1906, White was gunned down in the Garden's rooftop garden by Pittsburgh millionaire Harry Thaw, allegedly in revenge for White's long-standing affair with Thaw's wife, showgirl Evelyn Nesbit. The White-Thaw-Nesbit love triangle was ultimately immortalized in the 1955 film The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing - starring Ray Milland as White and Joan Collins as Nesbit - and in the recent best-seller American Eve by Paula Uruburu (Riverhead Books, 2008). Nesbit died in obscurity in California at age 81 in 1967.

Garden II hosted a sporting card heavy with boxing, wrestling, six-day bicycle races and horse shows, along with national events such as the 1924 Democratic National Convention, a marathon that lasted through 16 days and 103 ballots. Movie buffs will recall that in Orson Welles' 1941 classic Citizen Kane, Charles Foster Kane's acceptance of the 1916 New York gubernatorial nomination takes place at Garden II (although, obviously, it wasn't actually filmed there).

Garden II closed with a boxing card on May 5, 1925, followed by a mournful eulogy by ring announcer Joe Humphreys: "Farewell to thee, o temple of fistiana. Farewell to thee, o sweet Miss Diana...". The New York Life Insurance Building (51 Madison Avenue) occupies the former site of Gardens I and II, while Diana found a new home at the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

Garden III - the "Old Garden" - was built in just 249 days at 49th Street and Eighth Avenue under the watchful eyes of promoter Tex Rickard and architect Thomas Lamb. The fabled 18,000-seat arena, built at a cost of $5.6 million, opened with a six-day bicycle race on Nov. 24, 1925, and for 43 years was America's premier sports and entertainment showplace. Ironically, Rickard did not live to see the blossoming of Garden III, suffering a fatal appendicitis attack on Jan. 6, 1929.

1890-1925: 26th St. and Madison Ave.

Anyone who ever set foot in the Old Garden remembers its unforgettable atmosphere...the sky-high balcony...the haze from decades of cigarette smoke...the main lobby, a schmoozer's paradise...the marquee...G.O. Cards...the organ (played first by Gladys Gooding, later by Virginia Thomas)...the unmistakable voice of John Condon...the Nedick's and Adam Hats stores that flanked the main entrance...

Sports - especially hockey, basketball, boxing and track - would be the lifeblood of the Old Garden. But it also hosted entertainment extravaganzas ranging from the Ringling

1925-1968: 49th Street and Eighth Avenue

Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and the Gene Autry Rodeo to star-studded spectacles like Mike Todd's 1957 anniversary party for his film Around the World in 80 Days and President John F. Kennedy's May 19, 1962 birthday party which featured Marilyn Monroe's breathless version of "Happy Birthday." On the screen, the Garden provided the inspiration, and title, for the 1932 Paramount epic Madison Square Garden, starring Jack Oakie and ZaSu Pitts, as well as the on-location backdrop for the harrowing final reel of John Frankenheimer's 1962 classic The Manchurian Candidate.

The Knicks played their first game at Garden III on Nov. 11, 1946, losing to the Chicago Stags 78-68 in overtime. In the 22 years the Knicks played on 49th Street, they would record just six sellouts, including the most famous of all – the long-awaited pro debut of Bill Bradley against Detroit before 18,499 fans and a worldwide media contingent on December 9, 1967.

Garden III played host to three NBA All-Star Games: in 1954, 1955 and 1968. And although the Knicks made the NBA Finals three straight years in 1951-52-53, the Old Garden never hosted a Finals game. Due to circus scheduling conflicts, all Finals games in those three seasons were moved to the 69th Regiment Armory on Lexington Ave. The Garden didn't host an NBA Finals game until 1970, two years after the move to 33rd and Seventh.

The Knicks played their final game at the Old Garden on February 10, 1968, a 115-97 win over Philadelphia. The last event ever was the Westminster Dog Show, over February 12-13, 1968. After the Old Garden was demolished, the site was used for years as a Kinney parking lot. The Worldwide Plaza office/apartment complex, which opened in 1989, now occupies the site.

GARDEN IV

On Nov. 3, 1960, Garden president Irving Mitchell Felt announced plans for a new Madison Square Garden – Garden IV – to eventually be built at 33rd Street between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, atop Pennsylvania Station.

Prospective sites for a New Garden had been discussed throughout the mid- and late-'50s, especially the area at Columbus Circle which would eventually house the New York Coliseum and, ultimately, the Time Warner Center.

Then the Garden Corporation obtained the coveted "air rights" above Penn Station from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1961. The Railroad had entertained the idea of selling Penn Station's air rights as far back as 1951, when faced with a $72 million deficit. In 1955, Railroad president James Symes and famed real estate developer William Zeckendorf signed an agreement to option the Station's air rights for an industrial-commercial "Palace of Progress", with a new, renovated Penn Station below street level. When the project fell through, the Railroad sold the air rights to the Garden Corporation. Above-ground demolition of Penn Station began on Oct. 28, 1963, with new concrete poured starting on May 1, 1964.

Garden IV opened as a glittering sports and entertainment showplace, with its distinctive circular, cable-suspended roof above the 19,000-seat arena, its 5,000-seat Felt Forum, 48-lane Bowling Center, 500-seat cinema, Hall of Fame Club, National Art Museum of Sport, 50,000-square foot

Exposition Rotunda and 29-story office building (Two Penn Plaza) attached by a pedestrian mall.

The first element of the New Garden complex to open its doors was the Bowling Center, on Oct. 30, 1967. On Nov. 26, 1967, the Felt Forum opened with a performance of the Welsh and Scots Guards.

The "New Garden" itself officially opened on Feb. 11, 1968, when Bob Hope and Bing Crosby hosted "The Night of the Century", a star-studded salute to the USO. Three days later – February 14, 1968 – the Knicks played their first game in their new home, a 114-102 victory over the San Diego Rockets in the nightcap of an NBA doubleheader.

INSIDE THE GARDEN

- Cost for design and construction of the present Garden was $43 million.
- Garden IV was built by Turner Construction and the Del E. Webb Corporation. The building was designed by Charles Luckman, the fabled entrepreneur and architect who died in 1999. Luckman also designed the Los Angeles Convention Center, CBS Television City, the Prudential Center in Boston, the Johnson Space Center in Houston, and perhaps fittingly, The Forum in Los Angeles. . . which The Madison Square Garden Company acquired in 2011 and reopened as a state-of-the-art entertainment showplace in 2014 following a massive renovation-transformation.
- The Garden arena is 425 feet in diameter, 13 stories high, and occupies 820,000-square feet of real estate.
- Each of the four entrance/exit towers is over 100 feet high and contains at least 10 escalators.
- Seating capacity for Knicks basketball is currently 19,812, the highest basketball capacity figure in Garden history. The current figure was established at the completion of the Garden Transformation in 2013-14; it had previously been 19,033 in 2012-13 and the familiar 19,763 since 1991-92. From Feb. 4, 1993 to Nov. 2, 2002, the Knicks compiled a streak of 433 consecutive home sellouts (regular season plus Playoffs, all at 19,763), the sixth-longest sellout streak in NBA history. The Knicks entered the 2014-15 season with a streak of 157 consecutive home sellouts.
- The Garden opened the 2014-15 season as the second-oldest arena in the NBA. Only Oakland's Oracle Arena (originally opened in 1966 as the Oakland Coliseum Arena) is older. The Garden and Oracle Arena have both undergone extensive renovations over the last three decades. The 2014-15 campaign will mark the Knicks' 47th full season (48th season overall) in Garden IV.
- And even though the original Penn Station passed into history a half-century ago, several of its features survive. Sculptor Adolph Weinman's bronze statue of Pennsylvania Railroad President Samuel Rea, which once overlooked the main waiting room of Penn Station, now stands proudly at the Seventh Avenue entrance to Two Penn Plaza. Two of Weinman's 22 concrete eagles, which had adorned the Station's outside perimeter for 53 years, guard Seventh Avenue in front of Two Penn.

THROUGH THE YEARS

A look at the improvements/enhancements at Garden IV over the years:

1972: Garden IV becomes the first New York sports venue to install luxury boxes, formally named "Hall of Fame Lounges." The original deck of 11 luxury suites - each measuring 23x15 feet and accommodating 10 people - is installed above the mezzanine level on the 33rd Street side. Due to the ongoing luxury suite construction, basketball broadcast locations are moved to courtside and directly above center-court exit tunnels. Previously, they had been located in a two-level booth suspended from the roof.

1977: Original end zone scoreboards replaced by new 36-foot long scoreboards in each end zone, and smaller auxiliary boards on the facing of the mezzanine at center court. New boards feature tenth-of-a-second timing capabilities and black-and-white animated matrix boards.

1989-91: Over a three-year span, the Garden complex undergoes its most extensive renovation to date, a multi-million dollar effort in which:

- Each of the original red, orange, yellow, green and blue seats is removed and replaced. Primary color scheme is now purple and teal.
- Existing scoreboards are replaced by a computerized, state-of-the-art system that features the eight-sided Center Display Board (37 feet wide at the top, 34 feet wide at the bottom), complete with "GardenVision" color replay screens and multi-colored end zone boards, by White Way Company of Chicago. It is the first eight-sided scoreboard in a major U.S. arena. Original Garden sound system is also completely overhauled, including the replacement of the original center-hung "sound cluster" with four separate speaker clusters affixed to the arena ceiling.
- Original Hall of Fame Lounges (luxury boxes) are removed and replaced by a completely new deck of 89 Club Suites that encircles the entire arena, including a double-deck of suites on the Seventh Avenue end.
- The Paramount, a state-of-the-art, 5,600-seat theatre, is constructed on the former site of the Felt Forum, now named the Theater at Madison Square Garden. Fronting the main entrance is the Garden Walk of Fame, which opens in 1992.

- Two dining facilities - The Club Restaurant and the Play-By-Play sports bar and restaurant - are constructed on the former site of the Bowling Center and the Hall of Fame Club.

- Garden exterior renovated, including the installations of animated color matrix boards above the Seventh Avenue entrance to Penn Station and the Eighth Avenue facade.

- Upgrades and improvements in other areas of the Garden, including concession stands (and all-new Food Courts), locker rooms, press room, box office, Garden Team Store and broadcast facilities.

1995: Knicks and Rangers locker room areas are further renovated and expanded, including increased player/locker space, expanded training and X-ray facilities and individual offices for all coaches.

2000-08: Ongoing improvement program in the new century featured "GardenVision" upgraded to HDTV format and continued expansion of locker rooms, coaches offices, arena sound system, video facilities and exterior advertising capability. Also added were fan amenities including an all-new Team Store at Gate 75, the Garden Pub at Gate 70, The Prime Rib at Gate 76, and the Live at the Garden music museum/pub at Gate 66. New courtside Club seating for Knicks basketball was established in 2006, with an entirely new LED and Matrix center scoreboard and side out-of-town boards installed the following year.

The improvements and upgrades that opened the 21st Century at the Garden served as the prelude to one of the most ambitious arena projects in American history, formally announced on Apr. 3, 2008 and completed in the autumn of 2013.

AND A NEW ERA DAWNS...

In fall 2013 the three-year, historic Transformation of Madison Square Garden was completed, providing a significantly enhanced experience for customers, athletes, entertainers, suite holders and marketing partners, from the first row to the last. The project involved over 2.6 million man hours of union labor, the equivalent of at least 1,300 full-time jobs, creating as many as 3,700 union construction jobs. It also restored The Garden's iconic ceiling and pay homage to the building's storied history. The project's architect was Brisbin Brook Beynon, Construction Manager was Turner and Project Manager was JLL.

Extensive research and focus groups were conducted and the feedback was used to develop the plans for the "New York is not a city. It is a set of cities, dozens of them, divided by caste, class, taste and blood. Most of us are welcome in a few of these cities, barred from others by tradition, or fear, or indifference, or income. But all of us hold safe conduct passes to The Garden. It is a center of experience for the same reason New York is: nothing is out of place there. Walk through a neighborhood of New York and you will find people who would never dream of setting foot in Carnegie Hall, the Empire State Building, the Fillmore East, Sunnyside Gardens, The Four Seasons, or the Bronx Zoo. Madison Square Garden is alien to none of us."

- Jeff Greenfield, 1974
